SCHOOL BUS SAFETY RECOGNITION

Each year, NDIRF and the North Dakota Highway Patrol sponsor the North Dakota School Bus Safety Award Contest. Our purpose in combining with the Highway Patrol in this joint venture is to promote and recognize the safe transportation of students in school districts all across the state. Several serious accidents involving school buses in the past two years have reminded all of us of the importance of safety in operating these vehicles. 2003 award winners were determined from among those school districts posting the most miles of accident-free driving in the past year, as follows:

Division I:	Category A – Medina Public School
Division I:	Category B – Hazelton-Moffit-Braddock Public School
Division II:	Category A – Wyndmere Public School
Division II:	Category B – Flasher Public School
Division III:	Devils Lake Public School

Division I consists of Class B school districts that operate 5 or fewer buses and is further subdivided into Categories A (less than 70,000 miles driven) and B (more than 70,000 miles driven). Division II includes Class B school districts that operate 6 or more buses, with Category A containing those driving 100,000 or fewer miles and Category B including those driving more than 100,000 miles. Division III comprises all Class A school districts.

An award is also presented annually to a school district that has provided a safe transportation record but continually has fewer miles driven than other schools in its category. This year, the winner is Tappen Public School.

In all, 37 North Dakota school districts participated in the contest in 2003 (of these, a remarkable 31 were accident-free!). ND Highway

Patrol Superintendent, Col. James Hughes, commented that "Citizens should be proud of the total team effort and dedication to school bus safety. Recognizing these schools and bus drivers for their commitment towards safe transportation of school children is extremely important."

The winning school districts are presented with a plaque and all full-time bus drivers, mechanics and the school administrator receive a personalized jacket in recognition of their achievement. Congratulations to all – and especially to the Flasher Public School District, which is a repeat winner this year! ■
